If you're just starting out with Facebook, then your thought process may be something like this: "I really want to get the most out of my profile. I love this social network, but right now it's not really doing anything for me." With so many people updating their profiles every day, there are some things you can do to make sure your profile stands out. One thing you can do is save time by using a Facebook hacking application that automatically refreshes your profile with fresh content. The best part is that these apps are available for free! So here are two of the best options that anyone can use right now. These two apps were developed to help people update their Facebook updates quicker and more effectively. They do this by taking your old blog, video, image or text post and making it look like real new content. Then they will update it every time you log in. These apps are perfect for those of you who want to post frequent updates, but don't have the time to write them out or edit them manually. I used these apps myself and I can tell you that they work flawlessly. You can't even tell the difference between my real posts and those that were automatically posted to my profile. The first app that I tried is called Refresh for Facebook. This app isn't my favorite, but it still works. It has a really easy setup and once you get going with it you can set it up in a few minutes. The only thing I don't like is the fact that the posts don't have a timestamp on them, so most people will think they are real. This can be seen as spam if you're not careful, but if that's not an issue then this is the perfect solution for your profile timeline updates. My favorite application is called Profile Photo Pro. When I first found this app it was just called Profile Photo, but now the developer has included a bunch of great new features. It was originally created to automatically update your profile photos, but now it can also post updates, pictures, quotes and other Facebook feeds. This app is free for everyone to download and use because the developer doesn't make money off of it. He built this out of love for Facebook apps and decided to share it with us at no cost. That's why I recommend that you try this application first before moving on to other options. What personally attracted me to this app is the fact that it gives you the option of posting updates in different languages. This is great for me because I have a lot of friends in different countries and I don't always know what to write to everyone. So if you can't think of what to say, then this is a great solution. If you have any questions about these apps or want to share your own experiences, then post them below in the comments section. After you try these apps out feel free to come back and leave feedback on which one worked best for you!
